Thanking our Judging Day Volunteers.

Each year we depend on the generous support of club members to assist with the pre judging, and the actual judging days which span a whole weekend.

This year we had to call on additional support to manage the judging and we are very grateful for the assistance so freely given.

Whilst it is not possible to name every volunteer we do wish to acknowledge the assistance from Alfred Zommers, Rose Burns, Sue Rocco, Lorraine Holden, David Norris, Betty and Trevor Bibby, Mariolina Salpietro, Rebecca Nicolandos, Gwen Robinson, Barry Povey, Danielle LeGasick, Alan Wilson, Brian Paatsch, Mark Slater and the many wonderful volunteers from the Wodonga Albury Camera Club.

It goes without saying that we also recognise and appreciate the support from our judges, stewards and VAPS Committee, especially Jenny Colson who, as always, does a fantastic job of keeping the judging teams well fed and happy.

OFFICIAL OPENING OF THE 2016 CONVENTION AND INTERCLUB EXHIBITION BY THE MAYOR OF ALBURY

Cr Henk van de Ven

On behalf of Albury City we warmly welcome visitors to our great city for the VAPS annual convention 2016.

Albury is renowned for its love of photography and how timely that this convention lines up with the National Photography Prize exhibition at our Murray Arts Museum – Albury (MAMA). This prize, worth $50,000, is now Australia's largest acquisitive prize pool for contemporary photography and I urge you all to visit MAMA to view the exhibition during your stay.

Opened in October 2015, MAMA is just the latest jewel in Albury's cultural crown – we also suggest you take in the many other highlights of the city including the Albury Botanic Gardens and the spectacular Yindyamarra Sculpture Walk which forms part of the Wagirra Trail along the banks of the Murray River.

Add to that the spectacular dining, leisure and retail options on offer and I'm sure you'll agree our city has it all.

Enjoy a successful convention and importantly, your visit to our region.

Kind regards
Cr Henk van de Ven
Mayor, AlburyCity

THE AUSTRALIAN INTERSTATE PHOTOGRAPHIC COMPETITION

The AIPC competition was initially formed in 1989 when it was known as the Allied Camera Clubs Competition.

The competition now known as the Australian Interstate Photographic Competition, (AIPC) comprises images selected by the state bodies of each Australian State and Territory.

Whilst it is not a APS competition, it is however always held in conjunction with the APS annual convention, APSCON.

APS provides Herbert Bronze medallions to the winning exhibit in each section and Merit Certificates are provided by the managing state to the top five entries in each section.

In 2012, 2013 and 2014 Victoria won the Alan Moran National Trophy awarded for the top scoring state across the competition.

In 2016 APSCON will be held in Adelaide October 12th to16th, see the APS website www.aps.org.au for all of the details.

Our state images will be judged and displayed alongside the other states entries, lets hope that we again show them that Victoria is the top photographic state and that we bring home the National trophy once again

Speaker/Workshop Profiles

Ian Rolfe

Professional Photographer Ian Rolfe specializes in landscape, seascape and fine art imagery. His love of light and his passionate approach to what light does to the landscape are evident in his photographs.

Given his first camera at the age of eight Ian began taking monochrome photos of family and friends and also of the regular annual holidays he went on with his family.

A love of landscapes developed and flourished during a school camping safari to outback Queensland while attending secondary college. For over 45 years now, Ian has honed and developed his unique approach to the Landscape and continues to be a devotee to the amazing beauty that's found in the great outdoors. With his busy schedule of specialized workshops, he still finds time to quietly pursue the "light" in the landscape.

Ian has travelled extensively in Australia, South East Asia, the Himalaya's, United Kingdom, the Arctic Regions, North America, and much of the Pacific region, where he has built up an extensive photo library used in travel brochure work and his on-going photographic writing.

Over the years, Ian has become quite a well-known travel and landscape photographer whose column started to appear in the Photo-master magazine about fifteen years ago. Since then, he has written and published over 130 articles, 3 books, and through the Getty International stock library, his images have been used in countless books, photography magazines, travel brochures and many commercial websites. Ian's photography, has been used by the National Library of Australia, The British Museum, The BBC, The National Park service, Qantas, French Geographic, Victorian Government, South Australian Wine council and many other fine media outlets and institutions.

He also conducts up to 12 Photographic Landscape workshops each year, both locally and to overseas destinations and also gives lectures and presentations at Club level throughout Victoria to help members who are passionate about developing further in their photographic knowledge and skills.

Ian's Photographs have won many Gold Silver and Bronze medals, Best of Show, Merits and High commendations and received over 3000 acceptances at Photographic Exhibitions both here in Australia and at International Level. Ian is an accredited member of the AIPP, a Grand Master of the Australian Photographic Society, has been awarded the distinction "Artiste" from the International Society of Photographic art, and has also been awarded a medal for special services to the Victorian Association of Photographic societies.

Speaker/Workshop Profiles

Steve Axford

I live in the Northern Rivers area of NSW and I am retired from working as a manager and designer of large computer complexes. I now work on my photography and also restoring my land to something approaching its original native rainforest. My photographic interests cover many things including volcanoes, travel, people, wildlife and rainforests, with a particular focus on the fungi that live as part of the rainforest.

The Northern Rivers was once a huge area of uninterrupted subtropical, lowland rainforest and I have a little piece of it to look after and restore to the best of my ability. The native plants, animals and fungi (plus many other things) love it here, and it provides an ideal environment for much of my current photography. As my photography has developed, so has the international interest in it grown, to a point where I can hardly say that I am retired any more. I have been published in numerous European, Asian, North American and Australian magazines and books and have been invited to Moscow for an exhibition of my fungi photography at the White Rabbit Restaurant and to Yunnan in China, by invitation of the Chinese Academy of Science, to photograph their rainforest fungi.

In recent years I have gradually started spending more of my time with fungi time-lapse and that has now become a major part of my work. Some of these time-lapses will appear on the BBC series "Planet Earth II" later this year and in several other productions. I have also been invited to return to Yunnan to do some time-lapse there.

My photography has been my avenue into the natural world as it slows me down and allows me to look at things more closely. I try to combine the beauty I see with scientific accuracy, so most of my photos could be used to identify things and will show the fine detail. The time-lapse that I take adds another dimension to an already fascination world and sometimes allows a glimpse into the world of interactions between different life forms.

Speaker/Workshop Profiles

Mark Galer

Mark Galer is a seasoned professional photographer, educator, author, and contributing editor for Australian Photography and Digital magazine.

Mark is also the Adobe Photoshop/Lightroom Ambassador for Australia and all round Photoshop Guru. He has just published his 30th book with Focal Press, has served as a Senior Lecturer and Program Director of the BA Photography course at RMIT University in Melbourne and is the Sony Alpha Ambassador for Australia.

David Anderson

David Anderson, a budding rockstar with a fine head of hair, started shooting friend's bands around 1980 near Chicago.

After moving to Oz in 1984 and another failed drive for superstardom and brief marriage he went full-time and started shooting live music for various street press magazines in 1988. This lead to a regular gig at the then new Who Weekly magazine and then lots of work for the record companies and artists.

By 1995 David was too bald to be a rock star, but was one of the most published magazine photographers in Australia and was selling exclusive celebrity photos world-wide.

Highlights include photographing the Queen, touring with the Rolling Stones during Voodoo Lounge, being the ARIA music awards photographer for 21 years, 5 Farnham Album covers and 4 'Last Time' tours, shooting the Australian Idol finalists on various episodes of the show and a ringing in the ears that would silence Trump.

David is now mostly retired and concentrating on his fly fishing work for twigwater.com and raising all his wives' many, many children. With the exception of the ringing ears, they all live a quiet life in Albury NSW.

Speaker Profiles

David Taylor

David has had three successful exhibitions showing the beauty of the Australian landscape from an aerial perspective.

His photography is centered on the natural, capturing the energy of our changing land. Chaotic weather over the years has left amazing patterns and colours.

Imbued with an intuitive sense of colour and light, David has won acclaim for his images of outback lakes including Torrens, Frome and Eyre, the Cooper Creek, Diamantina and Warburton rivers, and Toko Range.

Selected images were published in 2011 in the books, Desert Channels and Desert Lakes.
A third book centering on Arnhem Land is on the way and will be published in 2016.

David's photos are hanging in many private collections.
A work depicting Lake Gregory, in the western Tanami desert, hangs in the Nevada Museum of Art, USA.

Whether it is desert or lakes, the Australian outback is a beautiful place, according to David.

"I love the peace, the colours, nature and the sheer rawness of the landscape," he said. "Nature has a way of selecting the colours and patterns"

"It's about listening to the land and being aware of what you are feeling and seeing.

"Nature is so powerful and our supreme ruler - even though humans think they are the ruler, nature will always have the last say."

These days he shoots his images from a four-seater Glasair Sportsman, a tail dragger ideally suited to bush flying. David uses a medium-format camera Phase One 645 and a Canon 5D.

While living and working with livestock, David developed a deep spiritual connection with the land, based on years of being at peace with nature and what it offers.

The vastness of our wilderness is vital for our spirit and creativity. To witness the self -sustaining ecosystem is a privilege David hopes to share with you.

Ron Cork

- I love shooting everything, in particular portraits and weddings. I especially like candid 'people-catching' street-style photography.
- Travel photography is always sheer pleasure and indulgence.
- I have seen and photographed across most of Australia, from the main cities to the outback, around the coast to all four corners, up through the centre and across the Flinders Ranges, as well as around Tasmania. I have visited more than 30 countries, a couple multiple times.
- I passionately believe in camera clubs (for knowledge exchange and mentoring), club competitions for the critique and feedback comments (which have helped me develop my photography) and the exposure to a wide variety of great images and different styles.
- I am interested in both still and video photography and making AV's (educational shows and home movies).
- I am also a musician and sound engineer and have worked with and alongside many top Australian and International names in popular music, both on stage as a musician and out the front on the sound mixing console.
- I have been judging competitions at club level and higher throughout the state of Victoria for more than 10 years.
- I have judged at most Victorian national competitions, e.g.: Ballarat, Warragul and VAPS Nationals, numerous times.
- I have presented many photography-related seminars and workshops to clubs and public library sponsored sessions throughout the state.
- I conduct 1-on-1 and small group image evaluation sessions to provide help in assessing an image and evaluating its potential as well as imparting knowledge and providing inspiration and direction to photographers.
- I was awarded SSVAPS in 2011.

My photography has been a continuous journey of self-discovery. I have always been an artist and a creator – initially working in the mediums of painting and drawing. I studied Fine Art and Education at Deakin University (graduating with Distinction in 2006), then proceeded to work in schools, teaching senior Art and Photography for 7 years at Secondary College's across the Mornington Peninsula.

Later, while on sabbatical in South Africa, I decided to follow my true passion and studied Photography and Digital Imaging at the Vega National College of Photography in Johannesburg (graduating in 2009).

In 2014 I launched my professional photography business, specializing in shooting weddings, newborn and family portraiture. I especially love shooting my clients outdoors in natural light, capturing all the candid moments exactly as they happen.

I have continued using my teaching skills to offer advanced editing, aesthetics and creative photography workshops to amateur and semi-professional photographers that attend camera clubs across Victoria. This is a volunteer role which I commit several hours to each week.

Selected Group and Solo Exhibitions:

2015 "OXFAM International", Melbourne Fundraiser Exhibition for Oxfam (Photography)

2014 "The Mornington Peninsula Collection", Meenyan Art Gallery (Photography and Painting)

Jean-Philippe Weibel

Born and raised in the Swiss Alps I started photographing the mountains that I so enjoyed climbing. After migrating to Australia, I joined the Caulfield Photographic Society in 1987 where I continued my interest in many types of photography, but mainly landscape, both in Australia's remote areas and overseas.

I have assisted CPS with it's annual Beginners Course over many years, convened judging panels and been involved as a Committee Member of the Club.

My judging experience started with being on CPS judging panels in the early 1990's. This led to me visiting and judging at many Clubs in my own right.

I have been awarded Life Membership of the Caulfield Photographic Society, in 2010 the VAPS 'Service to Photography' Medal and in 2013, the 25 year medal.

EDPI Judges

John Smith

John has been a photographer for over 50 years—from Box Brownie to Nikon D800e.

He is presently President of Doncaster Camera Club and his past 10 years on Committee have seen him involved in all aspects of Club judging.

He has often been part of the DCC team that has judged competitions for other clubs.

Wolf Marx

Wolf has been a keen photographer since the early 1970's and converted a part of his caravan into a dark room while working as a geologist in outback Australia.

He has become involved in the Camberwell Camera Club since his retirement and is the current Club Vice-President and Secretary.

He is a member of the Australian Photographic Judges Association.

Adrian Smith

I have been a member of Maroondah Photographic Society for 30 years this year, where I am proudly a Life member, and President on no less than 6 occasions, on VAPS Committee for 13 years, 2 of those as President.

I have judged at all but approx. 4 of all clubs in the state mostly in person, judged Nationals at Melbourne, Ballarat, Warragul and Pakenham.

International judging at Vigex and also Interphot in Adelaide.

5 years' full time Professional, 13 ½ years at Michaels Camera Video digital, but now happily retired and on the pension.

I am also running an Improve Your Photography course at the North Ringwood Community House in a voluntary capacity to pass on my knowledge and love of anything photographic.

AUDIO-VISUAL JUDGES

Jan Burt

Jan fell in love with the medium of AV's when she joined Rosanna Photographic Club. Her club had had a history of success in AV's both in Australia and overseas. The first AV she was involved with was a club AV inspired after Jan and several members of her club attended a weekend workshop held by Peter Manchester of Tasmania at the MCC. This first AV was quite successful and lots of fun to make.

Jan formed an AV group at Rosanna Photographic Club and their subsequent AV's have been very successful at VAPS and some wider acceptances have been received.

Jan went on to make her own AV's and has had success both in Australia and overseas. Her proudest achievement is her AV, 'A Cottage for Sale' achieving a FIAP acceptance and Best Australian Entry at the Adelaide AV Fest, and the AV being selected to be part of the International Collection of AV's held by FIAP. This AV is now shown at AV Festivals around Europe from time to time. Jan also has an AV on the APS website.

Phil Ryan

For over fifty years I have enjoyed photography, commencing with a 35mm film camera or two. When the new digital cameras left much to be desired in image quality I switched for a few years to the then popular videography hobby.

An Olympus 5mp digital camera drew me back to stills photography and then a new lease of life was injected into the hobby with the purchase of a Nikon D80 in 2007. I then upgraded to a Nikon D300 and later to a D800.

Last year I purchased an Olympus OMD E-M5 Mark II to see what all this mirrorless fuss is about.

I commenced making audio visuals about eight years ago as a method of storing and viewing the images from holidays and the AVs have become our "electronic photo albums".

I enjoyed the technical and artistic challenges of making of AVs and I began to create other "shows", which I have shared with others and entered in a number of VAPS and APS competitions. I established and coordinate the AV Group at Doncaster CC and I was member of the inaugural APS AV Division Folio.

I subsequently established and manage the AV Division's on-line Folio which has been operating for four years.

Tuck Leong

I am a member of the Australian Photographic Society and a past member of its Nature Division Council.

I am also a past President of Ivanhoe Photographic Society, the Victorian Nature Photography Group and a past committee member of VAPS and VIGEX.

I was director of VAPS convention for six conventions, organizing the conventions held in various cities in Victoria and Albury over the June Queens Birthday long weekends.

I have lectured and judged in metropolitan and country photographic clubs over the years as well as National and International Exhibitions.

I enjoy various aspects of photography and am active in National and International Exhibitions.

I was part of a group that submitted winning entries and also represented Ivanhoe Photographic Society with winning AV's at past VAPS Inter-club competitions.

Judges Scores

It was pleasing to see a greater level of “higher scores” through the Prints and EDPI judging this year, this reflects the high standard of images selected by clubs.
To accommodate additional high scores, Merits were increased to 7 in each category.
Judges deliberated extensively to make the final top three and merit selections.
We thank the judges for their expertise and we also thank the clubs and many makers who scored well in this years Interclub

THANK YOU CAMERA CLUBS

This year all camera clubs entered their own image details into the new VAPS Interclub upload system.

There were a total of 48 clubs with 685 print images and 694 EDPIs plus 29 Audio Visuals. A fantastic Interclub exhibition for 2016.

The new VAPS Interclub upload system was designed and developed by Peter Lawrence of Southern Suburbs Photographic Society. We are very grateful to Peter for the work that he put in to developing a superb system for VAPS and the clubs, and also thanks to all those who helped to extensively test the system prior to going online.
